

Insurgent ecologies?

ANTHROPOLOGY OF RESISTANCE
in the light of the multispecies turn

WORKSHOP / 25 May 2022
Wednesday / 13:00—19:00 CET
Prague or online

Annotation

The task of the workshop is to open the concept of resistance in anthropology to the agency of non-humans: their capacities to make social and political changes, fight back, co-produce politically charged effects, meanings and interpretations, refuse being controlled or dominated, affect more-than-human others in an unruly way or to form, change and rearrange political alliances and coalitions. What is meant by resistance, protest, disobedience, activism, infrapolitics or other concepts from the anthropology of resistance, in the light of the multispecies turn, where the resisting agency is recognizable as distributed along more-than-human lines? Is the relationship between anthropology of resistance and multispecies ethnography a case of mutual ignorance or one of antagonism, or something more interesting? The goal of this workshop is to explore their connections, sticking points and incompatibilities in more complex and nuanced ways.

The workshop is organized in two parts — a panel with paper presentations and an open discussion.

Information

The event is open to public in a hybrid format.
Join MS Teams Meeting: <https://lurL.cz/RK7fv>

Venue Address

Faculty of Humanities
Charles University, Prague
Patkova 2137/5, 182 00
Room 2.42

Contact to Organizer: bob.kurik@fhs.cuni.cz

Participants

Christopher Kelty / University of California Los Angeles
Stine Krøijer / University of Copenhagen
Bob Kurik / Charles University, Prague
Mateusz Laszczkowski / University of Warsaw

Program

13:00—13:45

Towards Anthropology of More-Than-Human Resistance
New Challenges for noticing Protest in the Plantationocene
Bob Kurik

13:45—14:30

The Art of Sneaking in an Occupied Forest:
Thoughts on Multispecies Resistance and Existence
Stine Krøijer

14:30—15:00 — Coffee Break

15:00—15:45

Of Butterflies and Bureaucrats: The Romance of Multi-Species Resistance
Mateusz Laszczkowski

15:45—16:30 Modulating Resistance:

Political Temporalities, More-Than-Human Politics
Chris Kelty & Bob Kurik

16:30—17:30 — Coffee Break

17:30—19:00

Anthropology of Resistance in the Light of the Multispecies Turn:
Challenges & Prospects
Open Discussion

FACULTY
OF HUMANITIES
Charles University